

Newsletter

January 2022

Introduction of regular students activities.

Happy New Year!

The new year of 2022 has started. What is your resolution?

My goal in 2022 is to complete the Genki 1 textbook and to get at least 80% on the trial test. - Andrew

僕の2022の目標はスピーキング能力を上げることです。日本語僕の母語じゃないので、日本語を話す時、他の人に僕の言いたいことわからせるために、長く説明するくせがあります。なので、僕の2022の目標はみんなに僕の言いたいことを日本語で短く簡単に伝わることです。

For 2022, I would like to improve my skills on speaking. Since Japanese is not my first language, so when I was using Japanese, I tend to use long sentence to explain what I wanted to say, to let others understand what I am trying to say. But this is not good, so my goal for 2022 will be able to express my thought with Japanese short and clear. -Geoff

This year my goals are to be more consistent in my study habits on a week-to-week basis and become more adept at writing. This past year I haven't put as much effort into retaining the vocabulary we have worked on and would very much like to build my retention skills. I think that if I can work on those skills it will help my sentence structure and grammar in speaking more confidently. I'm looking forward to being stricter on myself this year and becoming more confident. - Jillian

My goal for 2022 is to have better study habits. I will be devoting 2 nights a week to study for 30 minutes, vocabulary, verbs, adjectives, and most of all particles. I have not been retaining things covered in the past and want to fix this. I will also practice greetings, phrases, and light conversations with my partner whenever the chance comes up. Finally, I also wish to challenge myself to read more Japanese both when I'm in public like a restaurant or personally by reading short stories in Japanese. - Max

私は今年N4の試験をうけたいです。きんちょうしていたので、まだ試験していません。たまき先生のたすけがあれば、できると思います。テストをしっばいすると、とてもはずかしくなりますが、それでもがんばります。

This year I would like to finally take the JLPT N4 test. I've been too nervous to take it yet. But with Tamaki-sensei's help, I think I can do it. If I end up failing the test I'll be pretty embarrassed, but I'll still do my best. - Devin

私の新年の抱負はスピーキングとリスニングがよくなることです。それで、私はたくさんシャドーイングを練習したり、もっと日本語の映画を見たりするつもりです。今年、字幕を使わないで、子供の映画を見たいです。また、2年後で、N3の試験を受けたいと思います。

My New Year's Resolution is to improve my speaking and listening. And so, I plan to do things like lots of shadowing practice and watching more Japanese movies. This year I want to watch children's movies without any subtitles. Also, in two years, I think I will write the N3 exam. - Sam

This year I want to practice more kanji, and start preparing for the N3 exam. I am also going to write more haiku. - Jes

What's up In the Class?

Introduction of students' activities.

We celebrated our achievements in ぼうねんかい (Japanese style Xmas party). A lot of gifts, and a lot of food & Japanese Sake. Simple, small party, but we had great fun!

Activities in 2022

Projects

Several different task-competitions based on students' level. Build and strengthen your skills!

Conversation class-

After learning and polishing up your knowledge, this activity provides you with real situations of verbal communication.

Scared? Nervous? That's okay. You will gain confidence in the end.

New! Beginner's group conversation-

We have 5 beginners students in our class.

They have worked very hard and finally all of them are qualified to attend group conversation class. We will start real communication with people. Whenever you are ready, come to attend!

Conversation class Schedule

Advance Planned in February 7pm online

Conversation Class

Our native conversation partner, Mr. Yooichiroo Nagase

ことしも
がんばり
ましょう